

RISING STARS YOUTH DRESSAGE SHOW

Wendy Christoff is the type of volunteer every organization wants. She offers her help unselfishly, she does what she says she will do, follows through everything she starts and offers ideas, not criticism. She is so enthusiastic that she will bring her students to help, friends and often family will all pitch in when needed. Without a volunteer like Wendy, the BC Summer Games in Abbotsford would have been in dire trouble. She organized, made phone calls, made arrangements, attended meetings and when needed picked rocks out of the arena. The recent Equine Canada Convention was a success due to the hard work done by Wendy, she was very active on the First Annual Rising Stars Dressage Show for Youth. As with many volunteers, Wendy gives so much of her personal time to her commitments. Wendy also is an active coach and her students are lucky to have a person like her. She offers her barn for Young Rider clinics and events. Wendy is a volunteer who believes in what she does, offers support to the Horse community, and give her time to events that she has nothing personal to gain from. Wendy is an excellent recipient of the HCBC Volunteer of the Year award.
