

Sarah Bradley, Val Woida

Photo courtesy: Tracey Eide www.EquineSportPhotography.com

Horse on Course is a well-respected trailering service which operates out of Delta under the capable leadership of Val Woida. Val has a very loyal clientele and is by far the hauler of choice for Blue Heron Farms. At all times Val is attentive to the safety of the horses and the well being of their owners. Often Val will arrive early just to see some of the owners compete and she always has a kind word to say.

Val is extremely alert to horsemanship and sportsmanship: she has donated a very unique perpetual trophy to the Delta Riding Club and has personally set the criteria for this award. The first recipient will be named in February of 2008. Horse on Course was also a supporter at Rising Stars in Chilliwack this past summer.

In the community, Val is an active volunteer who generously contributes time and expertise to equestrian situations. She has been involved in the Disaster preparedness Project which responds during flood alert periods. More recently, Val attended a planning meeting at city hall for those interested in getting an animal rescue plan in place within Delta. A Ladner horse was rescued from a ditch this past summer and right away Val expressed interest in assisting with a readiness plan should such an event occur again. Fortunately, Val will remain on this committee.

Clearly, Val is a community -minded individual whose business is an asset to many people. Val works cooperatively with other haulers and is valued highly by regular travelers in her very recognizable trailer. She is approachable, flexible and professional. Horse on Course provides a dependable service to many appreciative horse owners.