

GLEN DRAGAN

Glen Dragan is a local farrier who services many of the local barns in the lower Fraser Valley. He is a kind, gentle, soft-spoken man who takes his job with each horse seriously. He is small in stature, but big in heart. Glen has and continues to contribute his utmost to being a good sport in competition. He is meticulous at his job and takes great care to please both client and horse. Glen is an excellent horseman who goes out of his way to make his client's horses comfortable and secure with the shoeing process, be it a young or experienced horse. He is only too happy to explain and answer any questions and has a broad spectrum of knowledge to offer when it comes to horses. He is extremely professional and courteous with clients and goes above and beyond to ensure that his job is done right. He has been a director of Horse Council BC, belonged to the Sunnyside Riding Club, been a director for the BC Half Arabian Association, involved in the Horse Improvement Program, a representative for American Saddlebreds. Glen has an excellent reputation in regards to his profession and his contributions to the horse industry. Glen Dragan is a worthy recipient of Horse Industry Professional of the Year.
