

THE CANADIAN CLYDE RIDE

Wendee Christante had a whim and in 4 years has turned that idea into a successful business: The Canadian Clyde Ride. Through this venture, Wendee has demonstrated leadership within the business and Equine world, but most importantly for WOMEN. The Canadian Clyde Ride makes appearances throughout BC and North America, most notably the Rose Bowl parade in Los Angeles. Not only does the Clyde Ride entertain, they are heavily involved in fund raising for charities including the Pacific Riding for the Disabled in Langley. They are ambassadors for Langley and British Columbia. Recently Wendee added another cause to her portfolio and reinvented the Cowgirl New Years in order to raise funds for Women's Breast Cancer with the proceeds. The Canadian Clyde Ride is good old fashioned family entertainment. The women of the ride pride themselves as acting as positive role models for men, women and children of all ages. Wendee Christante is a very deserving recipient of the 2005 Presidents Award.
