Derek Huget Bio

Derek Huget moved to Richmond BC in 1990 and became a certified coach with Equine Canada in 1991. Since becoming a coach Derek has competed successfully up to the Advanced Level in Dressage both on his own horses and clients horses. Derek has taught students of all levels and disciplines. His talent for bringing along a young horse has made many of his students successful in the dressage arena. He has a talent for being able to communicate to his students on how to keep their horses relaxed and balanced even through the hardest of movements. Derek is a wealth of knowledge and never seems to run out of exercises in his lessons to help guide his students. He has always had a knack for being able to figure a horse out. Regardless of the breed or background of a horse he is always able to come up with solutions to get the horse on the right training track. Derek is committed to the success of his riders and the well-being of their horses. He always has their best interest at heart . No matter what the level of the horse he is always able to improve the horse by working on the basics. He was recently able to help me bring a horse that struggled with tension up to Int 1 with scores in the 70's. I credit Derek's patience and talent for helping me understand my horse so much better.

Derek has been an amazing coach for myself and my developing young horse. As a rider who has had previously little to no dressage experience Derek made the introduction to it fun and engaging. He is a wonderful coach who always takes the time to say "Hello" and ask about my riding. Derek should win Coach of the Year with your organization because he embodies all the values that are essential for making an excellent coach as well as an amazing horseman. Derek always keeps the very best interests of the rider and horse at heart and makes every lesson a positive and educational experience.
